

Open Curtain Drama Presents...

Spring Drama Class for children with special needs

All kids can benefit from acting and expressing themselves with improvisation. In cooperation with the Contagious Drama Workshop of Westfield, Open Curtain Drama is a free drama program designed to introduce the love of acting to children with special needs.

Who?

Children in kindergarten through age 8 who need more support than typically provided in traditional drama classes

What?

A 5-week free acting workshop

Where?

The Robinson Room-Presbyterian Church,
140 Mountain Avenue, Westfield, NJ 07090

When?

Mondays from 5/5 to 6/9 (no class 5/26)
4:00 pm-4:45 pm

Why?

My name is Rachel Saxon, and I am a 6th grader at Edison Intermediate School. As part of my Bat Mitzvah preparation, I am doing a mitzvah (good deed) project. Acting is my passion, and I also love working with younger kids. I want to share this passion with other kids, as I know it can inspire creativity and self-confidence.
